With torbo systems you can sustainably reduce costs per blasting hour. In addition to a savings of up to 60% in blasting abrasive, the drop in the consumption of water per unit surface area is also quite considerable. By using the water - abrasive mixture, the service life of hoses and jet nozzles can be extended by up to 400% and your workers will be pleased that as a result of reduction in dust of up to 95% they will not only be able to do without labour-intensive housings but also not have to wear special protective overalls.
